

For seventeen years Birinyi Associates has delivered market intelligence to Wall Street Institutional clients and individual investors who seek analysis characterized by precision, originality and objectivity – traits which have become the foundation of Birinyi’s reputation for excellent research products.

Two of our finest and most popular products – the Birinyi Reminiscences newsletter and the Mini-Institutional research service – are available to you in affordable half-year and year-long subscriptions. The features offered within each of these packages are detailed below.

Birinyi Newsletter - $225 per year

Published monthly and now featuring supplemental weekly reports, the Newsletter subscription includes:

- Market Commentary and Analysis by Laszlo Birinyi
- Birinyi’s Market Transcript - Highlights the most and least attractive sectors by evaluating various analytics.
- Model Portfolios - Conservative, Growth and Trading portfolios, including money flow analysis for each stock pick.
- Dissecting the Economy - Analyzes 48 prominent economic indicators to identify those which have been particularly predictive and are moving the market.
- Views of the Street - Provides an anecdotal timeline of the past month and highlights its most intriguing stories.
- ETF Overbought/Oversold - Highlights the trading ranges of the 50 largest US ETFs.
- Birinyi Stock Ratings - Interactive database of 1,500 stocks which rates the most and least attractive based on a combination of stock research methods. Also includes our “Birinyi 50” list of the top rated stocks.
- Weekly Reports - New addition to our Reminiscences newsletter that recaps the week’s news, trends and events to cover any pressing issues. Also includes updates for our ETF Overbought/Oversold report.

Mini-Institutional Service - $750 per 6 mos.

Mini-Institutional clients receive our most sophisticated and in-depth research on a daily basis while receiving access to our vast archive of topical studies and research projects. A Mini-Institutional subscription includes:

- Chart of the Day (daily) - Analyzes a prominent market issue with focus ranging from macroeconomics to stock analysis, all with an emphasis on promoting a depth of understanding about the market and its contexts.
- Pre-Market Report (daily) - Summarizes the prior day’s market activity and pre-market trading, while previewing the day ahead by highlighting futures positions, analyst actions, sentiment, technicals and trading ranges.
- Matrix of Market Indicators (daily) - Integrates an array of sentiment, technical and fundamental indicators into a visual overview of the market’s stance prior to the day. Historical trends are also displayed.
- Overbought/Oversold Report (daily) - Illustrates where stocks are trading relative to their 50-day moving averages and theoretical highs and lows. Featured stocks represent the extremes from the S&P, Nasdaq 100 and the DJIA.
- S&P Group Flows (daily) - Details the net money inflows or outflows in the major S&P groups.
- S&P Advance/Decline (daily) - Graphs the recent momentum of the S&P sectors based on their A/D lines.
- Stock of the Week (weekly) - Identifies one of the most attractive stocks of the short-term. Selections are based on money flow analysis and an oversold condition.
- Money Flow Coding (weekly) - Provides an interactive database of 1,500 stocks which displays their money flow scores in non-block, block and total forms.
- Stock Selection Matrix (weekly) - Combines widely-followed technical indicators, fundamental analysis and our proprietary money flow analysis to highlight the most attractive stocks, groups and sectors in the S&P 500.
- Event Calendar (weekly) - Previews the upcoming week by detailing major economic releases, key meetings, earnings estimates, stock splits, and dividends.
- Strategy Papers (ad hoc) - Published several times annually, these reports analyze current market conditions and prevalent themes and then articulate appropriate investment strategies accordingly.
- Topical Studies (ad hoc) - Book-length research reports analyzing current market issues. Recent studies include market cycles, inverted yield curves, trading costs, corporate buybacks, and portfolio case studies.
- “Books Of” Series - A historical reference library that details the data and patterns of various important market topics, including significant stock days, market indicators, corporate finance, the Fed and market patterns.
